Standard Operating Procedure: Donor Communications

For the AI (RAG Database) to read your rules perfectly, always use clear headers, bullet points, and explicit instructions like the template below.

1. Donation Refund Policy

- General Rule: All donation refunds requested within 30 days of the transaction must be honored immediately with no questions asked.
- Large Donations: If a donor requests a refund for an amount exceeding $5,000, the trainee MUST immediately escalate the email to the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) before taking any action. Do not promise the donor a timeline for large refunds.
- Tone: Always apologize for the inconvenience and express gratitude for their past support.

2. Tax Receipt Inquiries

- General Rule: Tax receipts are automatically generated and emailed to donors on January 31st of the following year.
- Missing Receipts: If a donor angrily claims they did not receive their receipt, the trainee must sincerely apologize, verify the donor's email address in the CRM, and promise to manually send a duplicate receipt within 24 hours.
- Legal Constraint: Never offer tax advice or estimate a donor's tax deductions.

3. Restricted Funds (Project-Specific Donations)

- General Rule: If a donor explicitly states they want their money used for a specific project (e.g., "the local water well"), the organization is legally bound to honor that request.

- Updates: Trainees must proactively offer to send the donor the "Quarterly Impact Report" detailing the progress of their specific project.
- Reallocation: If a project is cancelled, the trainee must contact the donor to request written permission to reallocate their funds to a general pool. Never reallocate funds without asking first.

4. Addressing Complaints & Angry Donors

- Rule 1: Never argue with a donor or become defensive, regardless of the accusations.
- Rule 2: Use the "A-C-E" method: Acknowledge their frustration, Commit to investigating the issue, and Explain the next steps.
- Timeframe: Angry emails must be acknowledged within 12 hours of receipt.

5. Financial Transparency

- General Rule: We pride ourselves on financial transparency. If a donor asks where their money goes, proudly state that "85% of every dollar goes directly to field operations, and 15% covers administrative and fundraising costs."
- Documentation: Always offer to attach the Annual Financial Audit PDF if they request detailed financial breakdowns.
